SIERRA MADRE, CALIFORNIA — THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1957

12 PAGES — Vol. 51, No. 42

CAMPED IN THE "WILDS" of the Davidson's orange grove, 318 E. Laurel, this week were about 30 youngsters and their chaperons, most of whom are from the Washington, D.C., area. The group from the Georgetown Day School came here via a special bus that pulled tents, axes and other camping equipment in a trailer behind. They visited Disneyland, among other attractions in Southern California. The children of Dr. Norman R. Davidson, a professor at Caltech, became self-appointed members of the gang during their stay in Sierra Madre. Also included was Rush Dougherty, now of Washington, D.C., but formerly of Sierra Madre, when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frazier Dougherty, lived on W. Grand View. In the front row, from left, are Jeffrey and Terry Davidson, Rush Dougherty, and Marsha and Jonathan Agnorsky, children of Martin Agnorsky, nationally known radio commentator and newscaster.

Board OKs $300,000 School Bond Issue

Also Votes Projects At Sierra Madre

Sierra Madreans will be asked to vote on a $300,000 bond issue Oct. 22 to build new classrooms at Sierra Mesa School, under action taken by the Board of Education at its meeting last Thursday.

The bond issue, if approved, will finance construction of six new classrooms, two kindergartens and a multi-purpose room. The school, which presently accommodates students from kindergarten through third grade, will be extended to six grades.

Although the bond issue is a large one for Sierra Madre, Board members pointed out that it would result in only a slight tax increase since the bonded indebtedness on the Sierra Madre School will be paid off in a few months.

THE MOTION to authorize the bond issue was made by Hugh Colvin, new member of the Board.

After considerable debate,

Board members decided to include the all-purpose room in the construction program. They agreed that if funds were not included in the bond issue for the room, it might never be built.

The multi-purpose room could be used for a school lunch room, audio visual education, student assemblies, PTA events, an indoor play area and for other activities. Its estimated cost is $60,000.

The $300,000 issue contains a $30,000 contingency fund, approximately $20,000 more than the architect had figured in estimating the cost of the building project. His maximum figure was $290,000.

Dr. Lowell Jackson, superintendent, said the district has a bonding capacity of $358,000.

THE BOARD also has taken action on two improvement projects for the Sierra Madre School.

The contract for electrical overhaul of the school was awarded to the Sherman Electric Co., whose low bid is $13,210.

Not all of the projects originally included in the electrical work will be done. Those planned include new lighting fixtures for classrooms, new switches and replacement of cables for border lights around the auditorium stage.

Deleted because of the high cost were repairs to the control board, the installation of dimmers in the auditorium and the remodeling of lighting fixtures in the cafeteria.

Dr. Jackson was authorized to advertise for bids to remodel Room 10 to provide a corridor through the lower floor of the main building. The job will require removing part of one classroom. The other half of the room will be used as a board room and district office.

Teacher, Ex-Students In Art Show

Edward A. Reep, president of the California Watercolor Society and winner of the Sierra Madre Gallery Purchase Prize Award last year, joins with four of his former students to exhibit watercolors in Sierra Madre during August.

The exhibit will open with a reception Sunday afternoon from 2 until 5 in the Library Gallery, and will last through August 30. It is sponsored by the Exhibits Committee of Friends of the Library.

Exhibiting, besides Mr. Reep, will be Robert Uecker, an art teacher at PCC and owner of a Pasadena art store; Lucille Stafford, of the Los Angeles Times-Mirror; Norma Chuan, former Sierra Madrean and teacher of art to children; and native Sierra Madrean Alan S. Wood, an illustrator at Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena and a graduate of the Los Angeles Art Center.

Mr. Reep, a Cuggenheim Fellow, teaches at Art Center and at Chouinard Institute. All the other exhibitors studied under him at Chouinard and, coincidentally, are graduates of PCC. To complete the unanimity, all (including Mr. Reep) have exhibited at both the Pasadena and Los Angeles County Art Museums and are members of the California Watercolor Society.

Canyon Pool Now Open, Kids

To keep the town's small and not-so-small fry cool through the torrid days of August and until school reconvenes, the Canyon swimming pool opened yesterday under direction of the Recreation Commission.

The action was necessitated by a report of City Administrator Lawrence Bevington to the City Council that the current plumbers' strike has delayed work on the new pool indefinitely.

The Canyon pool will be open Wednesdays through Sundays from 1 until 7 p.m. Rates for children under 12 are set at 20 cents, adults and children over 12, 35 cents.

Starting Tuesday, August 6, the local Red Cross chapter will conduct a water-safety program which includes lessons from beginners to advanced swimmers. There also will be courses in life-saving, instructor's aide, and home pool owners safety.

First session is scheduled from August 6 through 23; second session from August 27 through Sept. 13. All classes will be held from 9 until 12 noon. There is no charge for instruction; the city makes a 10-cents-a-day charge for use of the pool.

6-Month Building Permit Total Off

Valuation of new building permits in Sierra Madre for the first six months of 1957 totaled $599,009, compared with $830,000 for the similar period a year earlier. Valuation was higher a year ago because of apartment units permits granted during that period.

Arrest 5 On Drunk Charges

Last week netted local police five arrests for drunk driving or drunkenness and over $600 in fines and forfeited bail went into the Municipal Court till.

Douglas Mauldin, 26, assistant sports editor of the Pasadena Independent Star-News, was arrested for drunkenness in auto on Sunday at 5:35 a.m. He was driving with John DeRitter, 61 S. Sierra Madre, Pasadena, when police endeavored to check DeRitter's speed. According to police record, Mauldin's shouts and profanity, directed at them, caused his arrest. Released on $25 bail, Mauldin forfeited it by non-appearance in Municipal Court.

Patrick Pettay, 45, bartender at Club 60, who lives at 406 N. Raymond, Pasadena, was arrested Tuesday at 11:34 a.m. while driving down W. Sierra Madre Blvd. He was charged with driving while drunk and is scheduled to appear in court August 1. He was released on $250 bail.

Stephen G. Brooks, 54, of 116 S. Primrose, Monrovia, was arrested Thursday for drunkenness on a complaint signed by P. J. Marino, proprietor of the Sierra Madre Hotel.

Brooks, according to the complaint, had been a patron of the hotel but had checked out. He returned and was found drunk in one of the hotel rooms. He pled guilty Friday in court and paid a $25 fine.

James I. Beard, 26, of 737 W. Alegria, was arrested Sunday at 12:35 a.m. on charges of drunk driving. He pled guilty and was fined $158.

Gene Henri, 39, of 198 E. Mira Monte, was arrested for drunk driving Saturday at 4:40 p.m. after his car collided with a parked car at Michillinda and Canfield, police report. In his Tuesday court appearance he drew a 30-day suspended sentence to County Jail, probation for one year and a $158 fine.

Cmdr., Mrs. Smith Here En Route to Navy War College

Cmdr. and Mrs. Coleman H. Smith arrived in Sierra Madre Saturday with the docking of the S.S. Lellani after two and a half years' duty in the Hawaiian Islands. Cmdr. Smith had command of a destroyer.

The couple has been staying at the N. Canyon Drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McWade. Mrs. Smith is Mrs. McWade's sister.

Firemen's Quick Action Stifles Canyon Blaze

Quick response by the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department prevented what could have been a serious fire last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter C. Guinn, 19 Cypress Ct.

Minutes after neighbors reported smoke coming from the Guinn home, fire fighting equipment arrived.

Cause of the fire was an overheated motor on a refrigerator, according to Fire Chief James Heasley, who reported only minor smoke damage to the home. The Guinns were away at the time.

Don Page Makes Bow as New TV Shop Owner

Don Page, television and radio service man for 15 years, made his appearance in Sierra Madre this week as the new owner of Meyers Television, 282 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Mr. Page, who lives with his wife and son in El Sereno, also owns television shops in Highland Park and South Pasadena.

New Proposal Eases Land Sale to City

A recommendation to buy the Merrill property adjacent to the water grounds will be made to city councilmen at their next meeting August 13.

City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington said Dr. C. S. Merrill, 1501 Highland Oaks, Arcadia, has made a new offer which may be acceptable. Mr. Bevington will recommend its approval.

The property comprises about three acres and a house immediately west of the water grounds on E. Sierra Madre Blvd. where the city is now developing a recreation area.

DR. MERRILL, under the newest proposal, has agreed to lease the land for two years at a rent of $125 a month, payable in advance. At the end of that time, the city would have an option to buy at a total additional amount of $27,000.

Previously, Dr. Merrill wanted to sell all the land to the city at once. This proposal was rejected, primarily because the city did not have enough money immediately available.

The house on the property, Mr. Bevington said, probably would be used by the city as caretaker quarters.

Work on the new swimming pool in the water grounds has been held up because of the strike of plumbers. Consequently, the city was forced to open the Canyon swimming pool.

R.G. Freeman Picked For Pasadena Board

Dr. Robert G. Freeman, a radiologist, has been appointed to the Pasadena Board of Education to succeed Robert Mardian who resigned about two weeks ago.

Dr. Freeman was named by the Pasadena Board Tuesday night. The Board also reinstated Ralph Hallman as social science director at Pasadena City College, but still faces the problem of choosing a superintendent to replace Dr. Stuart F. McComb.

Thus two of the three teachers demoted by the old Board in the fracas over political activity in the recent school election have been returned to their jobs. About two weeks ago Dr. Roland Walker was reinstated as assistant superintendent for instruction.

BOTH DR. WALKER and Mr. Hallman had been demoted to teacher status, and Dr. McComb was forced to resign.

All School Board members except Edgar Barratt voted to appoint Dr. Freeman. Dr. Barratt's objection presumably was based on Dr. Freeman's former association with the Committee on Public Education (COPE), with which Mr. Barratt, a hold-over member of the old

Publish Christmas Pageant by Wife Of Local Minister

Mrs. Mabel Lee Burlison, wife of the pastor of the local Church of the Nazarene, has received word from her publishers that her pageant, "His Birth, a Path to Calvary," is now printed and will be on sale in time for Christmas programs.

Mrs. Burlison wrote the pageant some years ago and produced it locally, and in neighboring churches, where it was received enthusiastically. Negotiations with Beacon Hill Press of Kansas City, which began last summer, have resulted in producing the pageant in attractive form.

It consists of dialogue based on the second chapter of the Gospel of Luke, and nine new songs.

Mrs. Burlison has written and published a number of other songs, and has recently been asked to write for the youth periodicals of the Church of the Nazarene.

Lorne Pratt To Manage Hesperia Inn

Lorne B. Pratt, city councilman and former businessman here, has assumed management of Hesperia Inn, million-dollar hotel and recreation area developed by M. Penn Phillips.

The development, in the Apple Valley, 84 miles from Sierra Madre, contains a deluxe hotel, a golf course, dude ranch and recreational club. Entertainment stars appear nightly.

Mr. Pratt is now in the process of choosing managers of the development's divisions.

The former owner of two grocery stores in Sierra Madre, Mr. Pratt has been in public relations work for many years. He currently manages his own firm in Hollywood, Lorne Pratt & Associates, and will continue to do civic work for the Hollywood film studios.

Graham in Gotham

Billy Graham's New York Crusade won more than 20,000 "decisions for Christ" in the initial weeks and stirred up some of the strongest criticism in the evangelist's young career.

Publicity-wise Graham battled 1,000. Newspapers, radio, and TV splurged his invasion of "the nation's sin hole." After telecasts of his meetings and personal appearances with Steve Allen and Dave Garroway, Variety, "the Bible of show business," called Billy a theatrical star: "The way Judy Garland belts out ballads, Graham belts out chapter and verse."

Some critics on religious publications, led by the non-denominational Christian Century, charged that Graham audiences are made up of people already Christians.

The biggest danger in Graham, clamored the Century, is the revival of "narrow and divisive" fundamentalism to a point where it can aggressively exploit the churches. But what disturbed Reinhold Niebuhr, a leading Protestant clergyman, was not fundamentalism as such, but that "organized Protestantism should give its official endorsement to this simple approach to the Christian faith amid the tragedies of the nuclear age."

Editor Elson Ruff (The Lutheran) declared Lutherans could stay away from Graham meetings, but only if "we have a clear confidence that the strong hands of our Saviour have us firmly in their grasp."

The Roman Catholic press jumped into the discussion with a warning to clerics and laymen to avoid Billy. It announced a special Sunday sermon series to coincide with the Graham crusade. In spite of the warning, a crusade official claimed a "significant number" of persons with Catholic backgrounds had made decisions.

In Christianity Today, author Edward John Carnell found much in orthodox Graham to praise. "What is the work of an evangelist, if not to tell sinners how to be saved? Billy Graham preaches Christ in such clear and forceful language that even a bartender can find his way to the mercy seat. This is why the multitudes discover a power in Billy Graham which they miss in Reinhold Niebuhr."

As the debate waxed hotter, Graham and associates remained quietly confident. A spot check by the Protestant Council of New York showed more than 40 per cent of those making decisions had no church affiliation. Five Methodist churches reported receiving 42 referrals from the crusade. Fourteen were non-members. Nine of these were to be presented for church membership and five are in membership-training classes. (Reprinted from "Together," a magazine published by the Methodist Church.)

Around the Square

LAST WEEK. Edward L. Voorhees, traveler and raconteur, while meandering through the salad section of a local market, recounted his admiration of this column.

"I always read it—it's the only way I can find out what's happening to people I don't know."

Well, hold onto your pith helmet, sir. If you don't know this week's people, you at least ought to know the places.

KATHERINE and Severin Sorensen, 233 E. Orange Grove, learned by letter that their 21-year-old son, Severin Jr., had lunched in Copenhagen, Denmark, with Sam and Annette Perloff and their sons, Stephen and Allen.

The Sierra Madre sextet dined handsomely at Oscar Davidson's, Copenhagen's best, and are all in excellent spirits.

Young Mr. Sorensen is completing two years in Denmark on a Mormon Church mission.

SUZANNE HANSEN, who lived here until four years ago, is completing her tour of duty in Amman, Jordan, with the U.S. Information Service in September. Probably make a trip to Sierra Madre for a quick round of friends.

HOLD FOR Brotherhood Week: Mrs. Marjorie Torres of Old Ranch Road, a member of Baha'i and a staff secretary at American Friends Service Committee (Quaker), this week completes a six-week course at Loyola University in human relations. Her participation was sponsored by the American Jewish Committee.

LIL AND TONY Briglio entertained a large part of Marlborough Terrace in honor of Honey (Mrs. Merrill) Miller who (1) had a birthday, and (2) just came off the boat trip down the Colorado River. Also present were three fellow River rats, not counting Merrill who has been down so many rivers he has become the river rat's river rat.

How are you doing, Mr. Voorhees?

Your Congressman . . .

Proposed Bill Would Add Power to States' Rights

By Edgar W. Hiestand, Rep., 21st District

My mail and that of other congressmen has been sharply critical of the recent series of Supreme Court decisions involving Communists. Some of the letters go so far as to advocate that Congress impeach the Supreme Court on grounds of treason.

This we cannot do, and should not attempt, no matter how strongly we disagree with the Court's rulings. There are proper ways to correct the actions of the Court—by legislation and, if necessary, by constitutional amendment. The 11th, 13th and 15th Amendments were specifically adopted to overrule Court decisions. There is legislation before the House now to offset the ruling of the Court in the Jencks Case, requiring that FBI files be opened to a defendant.

But impeachment should be alluded to only as a latent possibility, and resorted to only as a last hope. It has not been attempted for Supreme Court justices since the Jeffersonians failed against Salmon Chase.

Breaking down the traditional three-way balance of power among the executive, legislative and judicial branches is not in my opinion the answer to several unpopular decisions of the Court. Legislation is the proper way, and proper legislation will come.

I THINK it important that the Federal government was founded originally by the states, and not the states by the Federal government.

Therefore I have introduced two bills which would go far in offsetting Supreme Court actions which preempt state legislation. They are H.R. 679 and H.R. 6567. The bills are quite similar, and both have been referred to the Judiciary Committee which is studying them. There's a good chance that the Committee may bring H.R. 6567 to the House floor before Congress goes into recess for the summer.

This bill declares that if a state has passed a law permitting or prohibiting certain actions, an act of Congress shall not supersede the state law unless the act specifically so states, or that the two acts are irreconcilable.

HOW WOULD this bill offset the Supreme Court regarding Communist activities?

A good example would be the Nelson Case, decided April 2, 1956. The Court ruled here that state governments cannot punish persons for sedition under their own laws, and overturned the conviction of Steve Nelson, an admitted Communist party leader and possibly the most dangerous Communist official in the United States. He had been given a 20-year sentence in 1952 for violating the Pennsylvania State Sedition Law.

The Court ruled that Federal law (in this case the Smith Act) superseded the State Sedition Law, and therefore the previous conviction of Nelson was invalid. If my bill had been the law at the time the Supreme Court was making its decision, the State Sedition Law would not have been superseded by the Federal law. The conviction of Communist leader Nelson would have stood.

There are other outstanding examples of the Court's ruling that Federal laws preempt state laws. These examples give proof that rights of individuals, instead of being guarded by the Constitution, are being placed in jeopardy through the giving of solace to a cause which advocates the violent overthrow of the very government which protects them.

Just a few such examples are the Slochow Case (April 9, 1956), making it virtually impossible for state or local governments to fire Communists or other subversives from jobs in tax-supported institutions; the Schwabe Case and the Kongsberg Case (both May 6, 1957), making it impossible for sovereign states to prevent Communist lawyers from becoming members of state bars, and the Sweezy Case, holding that state officials do not have the right to question the Communist associations of professors in state institutions.

EACH OF these decisions was made possible because the Supreme Court ruled that Federal laws superseded state laws in the same field. Under H.R. 679 and H.R. 6567 the Federal laws would not supersede, as was intended under the 10th Amendment to the Constitution, saying: "All rights not specifically granted to the Federal government shall be reserved to the states, or the people."

My bill would have a far-reaching effect if it became law. Besides protecting immediately against granting new freedoms to Communists, it would work toward preventing the centralization of government, which is so important in the long-range Communist plan.

I'm convinced our country is vastly stronger composed of 48 sovereign republics than it would be as a big government dictatorship.

Lee Shippey asks
What Do You Think?

A dozen officials of the Teamsters Union, the Bakers Union, the Textile Union and some others have been accused of stealing funds entrusted to them. And last week General Motors was accused of nicking Uncle Sam for more than $17,000,000 of excess profits on a single airplane order.

No matter how carefully you handpick apples, not develops in a few of them, so it isn't surprising that in unions where there is no real democracy but, rather, a czarist form of government, a few shameful persons will betray those who elected them.

But the tragedy is that the rank and file of the membership of those unions does not seem to be half as indignant as it should be. On the other hand, when one of the greatest corporations in the world is accused of gyping the government, there has to be collusion by a number of highly placed persons who are supposed to be honored citizens. And the tragedy in that case is that half the great American public shrugs off the accusation—if the corporation gyped the government it did just what a lot of other corporations will do if they get the chance. It was just a clever stroke of business.

We can't have the wonder-ful country we should have while labor or business or the public generally are so little perturbed by such shameful acts. If we don't ever get mad about it we are contributing to the delinquency of all of them—and all of us.

ADMITTING that I don't know anything about it, I suspect that excessive profits on airplane contracts have been pretty much the order of the day. I can remember when Bill Henry introduced a young engineer who had ideas but no money to Harry Chandler, and Chandler and others put up the money to pay for building a few planes, hoping thus to start a new industry in Southern California. Those planes were built in a carpenter shop and a big barn—and the young engineer was Donald Douglas. Certainly he was a genius who deserved great rewards. But could any man have amassed so many millions in so few years if many of his profits had not been excessive? That is a question, not an accusation.

However, there were two Scotch brothers named Loughhead, pronounced Lockhead. They, too, were geniuses but did not get rich and had to turn over their company to better business men.

THE WORST thing about our almost perfect country is the glorification of big money. Every tycoon of big business gets written up as a Horatio Alger hero, credited with having proved "the good old American way" ofers the best chance to rise.

Dave Beck, Jim Hoffa, and many a big shot gangster will agree with that—it helped them rise to power and wealth. It inspired them to organize a secret world—and what's the basic difference between that and "gentlemen's agreements" between great corporations which, penny by penny, force the cost of living steadily upward? Profits are right and necessary. But excessive profits, which are hardest on the poor, are just as shameful as stealing pennies from the blind, and those who revel in them should be treated with contempt, not pointed out as inspirations to youth.

Watch on the Potomac

By Robert G. Spivack

THE REAL EISENHOWER

—It's sometimes difficult at the President's press conferences to tell when he is expressing his own ideas or voicing somebody else's. There are times when the President looks puzzled and scratches his ear, that he is, in fact, least puzzled. At other times when he is rattling off something on which he has been "briefed" it's obvious he is moving in unfamiliar waters.

After four years of covering his weekly news conferences we readily confess to our continuing bewilderment on this point. But we think—and mind you, historians may prove this is totally wrong—that it was the "real" Eisenhower who got off the following comment on the right-to-vote:

"If in every locality every person otherwise qualified, or qualified under the laws of the state to vote, is permitted to vote, he has got a means of taking care of himself and his group, his class."

"He has got a means of getting what he wants in democratic government, and that is the one on which I place the greatest emphasis."

IN OTHER words, the President was trying to cut through the carefully contrived confusion created by opponents of the measure who claim to be concerned about absence of "trial by jury" and the threat that Federal troops will keep "black heels on white necks."

When all the verbiage is stripped away, it's this right to vote that really does concern the Southern politicians more than anything else.

If the civil rights bill passes without being too badly mangled in the process, Southern politicians may find themselves bidding for the support of Negro voters exactly as they claim Northern politicians now do. And why not?

They pretend to be virtuous about it and claim that their Northern opponents are for civil rights only for political reasons. At nearly every session of the Senate debate, Sen. Russell (D. Ga.) has complained that the bill is "shot through with politics." But it's not one-sided.

UPSETTING THE POLITICAL BALANCE—You get some idea of why the Dixie demagogues are so worried when you look at the registration statistics in several of the Southern states. For example:

Alabama—The number of Negroes registered was 10.3 per cent of those entitled to vote.

Arkansas—Only 29.2 per cent of the eligible Negroes were registered.

Mississippi—The figure here was the lowest in the nation—4 per cent.

South Carolina—The latest figures indicate 25.3 per cent of the eligible Negroes were registered.

Virginia—The total in this "cradle of democracy" is only 20 per cent.

It's not hard to understand why the entrenched Southern politician is alarmed at the thought 100 per cent of all eligible Negroes might get the right to vote, even if only half of them use it.

Dixie politicians, especially those who have proved most responsive to the demands of Big Oil, the Power Trust and similar special interests, will now have to spend some of their time worrying about the needs of less privileged Negroes. And maybe they'll even have to pay attention to the needs of poor whites, too.

This right-to-vote business could prove awfully tiring to the mint julep set.

THE BAFFLES By Mahoney

Toastmistress Club Held Recent Workshop

THE THEME, "Speech Construction," was aptly covered in a workshop, conducted by Mrs. Gordon Widcombe, past chairman of San Gabriel Valley Council 9 at the recent Foothill Toastmistress Club dinner.

Each member was asked to present a three-minute speech which embodied the opening, introduction, body, example and conclusion of a speech.

Some of these speeches which highlighted the evening were "Don't Let Your Daughter Elope" by Mrs. Don McFarland, "Diet Does It" by Mrs. Hal Halverson and "Look Before You Leap" by Mrs. Paris Stafford.

HAZEL JONES conducted an unusual table topic session on "How Do You Feel About Credit?" with the pros and cons of credit-buying the main topic of discussion.

Mrs. Walter Goodwin, 409 W. Grandview, education chairman, presented a program on "evaluation" in which she pointed out that well suggested recommendations help the speaker, audience and evaluator.

Marion Kelly, 72 W. Laurel, club lexicologist, used as her theme "A Linguistic Tour of the World." She pointed out the foreign origin of words used in daily conversation.

The Kulinary Kettle . . .

Here's One Englishman Who Cooks Mexican Style

By Toni Maurin SY 7-9634

Every now and then you run into a perfectly delightful person that comes as a complete surprise to you. This was my experience with Mrs. Theodore (Camilla) Stack of 247 Mountain Trail.

I had been told that she but nobody informed me she is of British heritage. She has absolutely horrified her English family with her love and preparation of the hot Mexican foods. She received these recipes straight from Mexico City and prepares them often for her friends.

Chilli Rellanos (Serves four)

- 1 can of sweet Mexican chili peppers
- 1 pkg. Velveeta or cheddar cheese
- 4 eggs
- Flour
- Salt
- Cooking oil

Split each chili into two pieces and remove seeds. Cut cheese into squares about 2 inches by 1/2 inch and wrap both ways completely with the two pieces of chili pepper. Plan on one chili per serving.

When they are wrapped, carefully dredge with flour to the point of patting the flour well into the chili.

Separate the eggs, and beat separately. Beat the yolks until they are smooth and lemon colored. Add a little salt to the whites and beat until stiff, but not dry.

Carefully fold the yolks into the whites until it is of omelet consistency. Heat about 1/2 inch of cooking oil in a large skillet until hot enough to fry. With a large cooking spoon dip the chilis into the egg mixture, coating it well and retaining as much egg as possible. Put into hot fat and immediately add another spoon of egg mixture on top. Repeat this until all four chilis are cooked and golden brown on both sides. Set aside to drain. (This can be done a day or two ahead of serving.)

Chili Rellanos Sauce

- 1 can tomato paste
- 1/4 cup salad oil
- 1 medium onion sliced fine
- 1 tbs. each, sugar, oregano
- 1/4 tsp. ground clove
- 2 quarts water
- 1 clove minced garlic
- Salt to taste
- 1 tsp. cumin
- 2 tbs. Worcestershire

Heat salad oil with onions and garlic till onions are transparent. Add spices and tomato paste and water and simmer on stove for two hours till sauce is consistency of thick soup. Add more water if necessary.

One half hour before serving chili rellanos, place them in sauce and simmer. In the meantime, prepare a pot of rice and serve the chili rellanos with the rice with the sauce poured over both. Mrs. Stack serves this with a tossed green salad, refried beans with cheese generously melted over the top, and heated tortillas.

AS I SAID, Mrs. Stack is of English heritage on her mother's side. Her mother married a Texan, and that is where Camilla was raised and where she acquired her taste for Mexican food. She has traveled extensively and as often as possible into Mexico and South America.

Mr. Stack is semi-retired from the Jet Propulsion division of Caltech so they are able to do a great deal of traveling. They just returned from six months in Europe this past month. They spent some time with their daughter who lives just out of Geneva in France with her Swiss concert pianist husband and two sons.

Mrs. Stack took a dozen cans of the chilis with her to Europe, and while she was visiting relatives in Kent she decided to prepare a Mexican dinner for them. She said that they were very polite about eating the dinner but that they acted as if they were being slowly poisoned. When she prepared the same dinner in France for her daughter and her friends they couldn't seem to get enough and have extracted a promise that she send a case of the chilis immediately on her return.

Who knows, perhaps a new trend will be started among the French cooks?

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lee Peterson Honored at Recent Reception

By Marjorie Thomas

Mission San Rafael Archangel, San Rafael, Calif., was the scene of the double ring ceremony which united Geraldine Mann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Mann of San Rafael, in marriage with Dan Lee Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Peterson, 71 Suffolk, July 21.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white satin gown with a sweetheart neckline, pointed sleeves and a full bouffant skirt which fell into a chapel train. Her fingertip French illusion veil was caught by a coronet of lace embroidered with seed pearls.

She carried a white Prayer Book with three yellow-throated orchids and clusters of white bouvardia with ribbon streamers.

MRS. STEPHEN BARDEN, matron of honor, wore a rust shade linen dress, princess style with rounded neckline and short sleeves. She carried a French bouquet of yellow carnations and talisman roses.

Muriel Peterson, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Alan Brady, cousin of the bride, were attired in yellow frocks similar to the matron of honor's.

Clark Marshall of Sierra Madre was best man and the guests were seated by William Mann, brother of the bride, Duncan MacDougall and Thomas Cowles.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue faille suit with three quarter sleeves and gored skirt, accented by white accessories and a white butterfly orchid corsage.

THE MOTHER of the groom chose a powder blue linen dress with boat neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. Her accessories were black and she wore a corsage of white butterfly orchids.

More than 100 guests congratulated the couple at a

Going to Chicago?

The uniqueness of its nine-sided design, of its exterior and interior ornamentation, of its nine beautiful gardens has made it internationally famous. As a symbol of world religion, of world unity, and of world brotherhood, without prejudice of race, class or creed, it is a source of inspiration to millions.

Located on Sheridan Rd. at Linden Ave. in Wilmette, a northshore suburb of Chicago, this notable edifice is reached by car on Route 42, or by bus through one of the many conducted metropolitan tours.

... Fire Flames ...

By James Heasley

Vacation time has its effects on the Fire Department in more ways than just fire danger. The required number of active members to form a quorum was not present when the bell sounded for the opening of the meeting Friday. After a very successful drill, the return to the station found several absent on vacation.

This necessitated the calling of an active member from his home to hurry in, pay his fine and be seated, so that Charlie Brown could proceed. Although it cost him to the hilt for not being on time, Ralph Twedell appeared amiable.

The meeting went on with the usual business and fines. Fines are paid by those who insist on being heard at the wrong time, or who will always find an interesting subject with a seat-mate.

Joe Davis learned to the tune of a dollar that it is wrong to ride on the running board of the truck while it is in motion. He, at least, got a little advertising in for his money.

F. A. Francos Return From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin A. Franco, 409 N. Mt. Trail, and their daughter, Kathy, recently returned from an extensive motor trip across the United States.

Following a visit with relatives in St. Louis, Mo., they continued on to Washington, D. C., for a stay with their son, Lt. Cmd. F. A. Franco Jr., his wife and their three children. It was the first time the elder Francos had seen their year-old granddaughter, Alice Hugins Franco.

The Sierra Madreans' next stop was in Jersey City, N.J., where they participated with Mr. Franco's 81-year-old mother and six brothers and their families, in the first family reunion in 10 years.

On their return across the continent they were guests in the South Bend, Ind., home of their son-in-law, Dr. A. R. Caponigri, professor of philosophy at the University of Notre Dame, and daughter. They were in time to welcome their newest granddaughter, Lisa Marie, who was born a few days before their arrival.

Before returning to their home they toured the South Dakota badlands, Mt. Rushmore National Memorial, the Big Horn Forest, Black Hills and Yellowstone National Parks.

Faith Lutheran To Show Film Sunday Morning

"Flying Straight," a 15-minute sound film, will open the Sunday morning session of Faith Lutheran Sunday School at 9:15.

The film involves temptations to dishonesty, and is an attempt to help children find honest solutions to their everyday problems, said Roy Uecker, superintendent.

At 9:15 on Sunday morning, the pastor will conduct the joint youth and adult Bible classes, leading them in a month's study of the Book of Ruth. The problem-discussion type of study will be employed.

In the 10:30 a.m. service, the pastor will continue his summer series of sermons on "The Spirit-Directed Life," using as his theme "A Life of Purity." His sermon text will be Ephesians 5, 1-10.

Orian G. Burlisons Receive Degrees At Burton College

Rev. and Mrs. Orian G. Burlison, 247 Santa Anita Court, have just returned from a vacation trip to Manitou Springs, Colo., where they attended the 30th Annual Convocation of Burton College and Seminary, an interdenominational graduate school of religion.

At graduation exercises, following the summer session of the seminary, the degrees of Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Theology, respectively, were conferred upon Dr. and Mrs. Burlison.

Subjects of their theses were: "The Happy Man, an Exposition of the Sermon on the Mount," and "New and Novel Ideas for Young People's Programs."

Dr. and Mrs. Burlison have served as pastor of the local Church of the Nazarene since June, 1948. Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Burlison, accompanied them on the trip.

The graduating class of Burton College and Seminary, numbering 46 from all parts of the nation, included ministers, chaplains of the armed forces, educators, and two physicians, among them Dr. Frank Eugene Ronald, of Sierra Madre, who received the degree of Doctor of Theology in preparation for missionary work in Africa, which he expects to begin in January 1958.

SUNDAY SERMON

"Habitual Spiritual Consciousness" will be the subject of the Sunday sermon, Aug. 4 at 11 a.m., by Dr. Ethel Barnhart, at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead Blvd., Pasadena.

New Lutheran Minister Makes Church Survey Here

Announcement that this community is to have a new Lutheran church is being received with enthusiasm by United Lutheran members and unchurched families, according to the Rev. Ray Hansen, mission pastor who is developing the new congregation here.

He is making a religious survey of the area to determine which families are Lutheran and unchurched. The new mission is sponsored by the United Lutheran Church in America, which now numbers more than 2½ million members and beginning 90 new missions a year. This community was approved for a United Lutheran mission by the National Lutheran Council, an organization of Lutheran bodies in this country, after a partial survey two years ago.

Lutherans today form the largest group among the Protestants in the world, numbering more than 68½ million baptized. As were all American churches, the Lutheran faith was brought over from Europe.

As early as 1664 a Lutheran church was chartered in New York. Migration waves from Europe during the 1800s led to the spread of the church all over the continent. Most emigrants came from Germany, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Slovakia, Finland, Russia, Poland and other Central European countries.

The United Lutheran church, of which Rev. Hansen is a pastor, is leading in the merger of present Lutheran bodies. At present, the ULC is combining with the Augustana (Swedish) Lutherans who number more than 500,000 members.

The ULC today has 34 synods, which cover several states or provinces each in the United States, Canada and in American possessions. It conducts overseas missions in India, Liberia, Japan, British Guiana and Argentina in addition to the work in the Hawaiian islands and West Indies.

The new pastor and his wife and three children are residing temporarily at the Santa Anita motel, 9014 E. Huntington drive, Pasadena. He may be reached by phoning the Sierra Madre News, where messages may be left for him.

FOTOS ARE FUN

An "Oh, You Shouldn't Have" Surprise

Lots of candles going on birthday cakes this summer. A good many weddings and anniversaries coming up, too. That means most of us will want a special gift for some close friend or relative.

Take heart! You don't have to spend a lot of money for a really appreciated gift. Give a new camera that will be used for years to come. The Kodak Pony 135 Camera, for example, is a fine "miniature" that takes good color slides even on dull, overcast days. Easy to load and a cinch to use, the Pony 135 gets a "someone special" into color slides for just $36.50.

Maybe you've always thought movie cameras were too expensive to consider as gifts. We love to see peoples' faces when we tell them that a movie camera need not cost any more than a regular still camera. The famous Brownie Movie Camera, for example, takes movies indoors and out. Just aim and shoot to get action-packed movies that are fun to show again and again. Easy on your gift budget, because it's priced at just $29.95.

And, by the way, we've just seen a roll of film taken with the new Electric Eye 8mm Camera and it is just out of this world!

We've helped lots of people choose cameras and equipment for special gifts. Drop in soon—we'll be happy to help you, too.

No foolin'.

BARBECUE SAUCE ENHANCES MEAT FLAVOR

Cooked over the coals at the patio grill or under the broiling flame on your kitchen range, grilled meats taste wonderful. And, in the time of the barbecue, the fine taste of the barbecue sauce is the key to the success of the meal. Tender steaks, ham steaks and lamb chops really don't need a sauce. Patties of ground beef or lamb are good with, or without, ribs, lamb ribs, kabobs and ready-to-eat meats (luncheon meats, wieners, etc.) take on truly special flavor when a good barbecue sauce is used.

These are a few of the barbecue sauce recipes we've used and liked.

TART BARBECUE SAUCE
1 onion, grated
1/2 C. chopped celery
1/2 C. minced green pepper
2 Tbsp. salad oil
2 Tbsp. brown sugar
1/2 C. lemon juice
1 C. catsup
1/2 C. pineapple juice
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1 tsp. Worcestershire
Combine all ingredients in a saucepan. Cover and simmer over low flame for 25 to 30 min. Cool. Store, covered, in refrigerator until ready to use.

PAT'S BARBECUE SAUCE
1 med. onion, chopped
2 Tbsp. shortening
2 Tbsp. vinegar
4 Tbsp. lemon juice
1 Tbsp. Worcestershire
2 Tbsp. brown sugar
1 C. catsup or chili sauce
1 C. water
Salt and pepper to taste
Saute onion in shortening until golden in color. Add balance of ingredients and simmer, uncovered, in covered jar in refrigerator until ready to use.

EASY BARBECUE SAUCE
1/2 C. brown sugar
1 C. chili sauce
1/2 C. vinegar
1/2 C. pineapple juice
1/2 C. salad oil
2 tsp. prepared mustard
2 tsp. Worcestershire
Combine all ingredients and stir until sugar is dissolved. Store in covered jar in refrigerator until ready to use. Shake well before using.

PUC Sets Monday For Gas Hearing

Franchise applications are pending along the proposed route of a $24,000,000 pipeline that Southern California Edison Company plans to build to bring natural gas into its plants.

Local gas companies have objected, contending that only they have the right to purchase natural gas from the producers. The Public Utilities Commission has scheduled a hearing Monday on the matter.

James F. Davenport, executive vice-president of Edison, stated, "We have tried a supply of gas to meet our needs. They have objected fully, to reach agreements with the gas companies for from other sources."

VILLA
VIEWSBy Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

The people who border on the park side of Sierra Madre Villa as well as the upper Hastings section are suffering a war of nerves. For the past few weeks, there have been no less than eight to ten cats, tractors, water trucks, plain trucks, wood-sawing gear, and anything else you care to name tearing up our lovely canyon.

I understand this is to be a debris basin, and there must be some good reason for tearing out the beauty that has been so long in the making. Not only do we have the intolerable noise, but the air, and I use the word loosely, is heavy with dust and dirt as the machines groan and grate away. Come nightfall, the noise stops and you have the distinct feeling that you have suddenly fallen or awakened from a bad dream. Enjoy yourselves, there is an ugly rumor that it will continue on into November!

THE SPELTS Parkers of 1701 Country Lane have been enjoying a busy summer this year. They took a week's vacation with some friends down Las Vegas way, sans children, and then came home in time to do a little entertaining for Mr. Parker's brother, Mr. Ernest Parker, and his wife and three children from Chicago. They stayed about 10 days, during which time they were introduced to Disneyland. They also had a large family dinner party down at the Balboa Bay Club which included about 23 members of the clan. In addition to the outdoor entertaining, Mrs. Parker gave several informal dinner parties to introduce them to their local friends.

MR. AND MRS. David Phillip of 1684 Sierra Madre Villa recently returned from Rancho Santa Fe with their three children, Roger, Laurie and Hardie. They spent a few days there visiting with relatives of Mr. Phillip.

MR. AND MRS. Paul Siechert of 1175 Mesita Road and their three children, Carol, Barbie and Carl, returned last week from a two-week trip to Colorado where they met Mr. Siechert's sister and her family from New York. They made their base headquarters at Boulder City and traveled about from there taking in some of the various sights, which included Estes Park and Bill Cody's grave. On their return they stopped in to examine some of the cliff dwellings at Mesa Verde. This is the first time the two families have seen the other's new babies, so it was a doubly happy occasion.

MRS. P. L. WETCHER of 1805 Kinneloa Mesa is back home again from the hospital after having a little minor surgery on her toe. She'll be hobbling for a few days, but all went well.

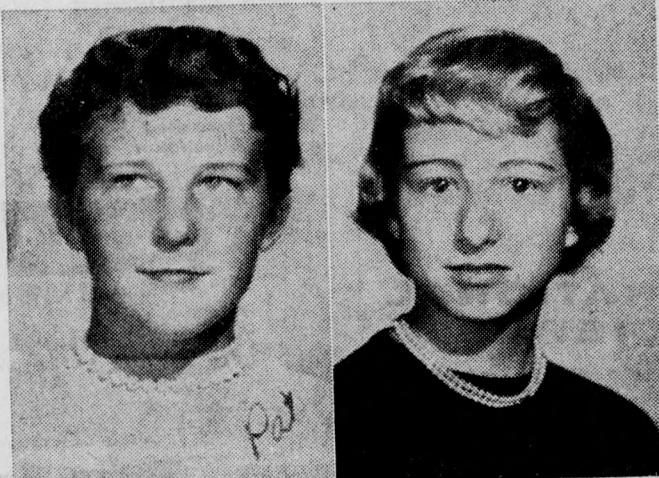

DR. AND MRS. Gilbert McCann, 2247 Villa Heights Road, returned last week with their two children, Janice and Norman, from a week's stay in Santa Barbara. They particularly enjoyed watching the horse show while they were there.

MR. AND MRS. Raymond C. Hurt of 1230 Wynn Road month stay in Europe. Mr. Hurt was over there in a supervisory capacity for the C. F. Braun Co. on an oil refinery project. They lived in Frankfurt, on the Main River, and were able during their time there to take a few side trips to see other parts of Europe. On one trip they traveled over a good deal of Germany, went into France, on to the Swiss Alps, then back to Switzerland where they stayed in Lucerne, and then on into Austria, which Mrs. Hurt said is a perfectly delightful country with charming and friendly customs. Just before their return to the United States they were able to take time to visit Spain and Paris.

BREAKING CAMP are these two Hastings Ranch Boy Scouts who recently returned from the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge. They are, from left, First Class Scout David Robinson, 13, of 3880 Mayfair Dr., and Star Scout Roger Shanks, 12, of 3640 Newhaven Rd. The boys represented Troop 337, Mt. Wilson Trail District, at the jamboree.

Jan Price is hostess to some friends down at the beach. Those included are Nancy Grant, Judy Alexander, Jerilyn McIntyre, Evelyn Dunn, Linda Jordan Sue Jordan and Carol Cox. Jan has some relatives down at Bal who are loaning them their home. Boy, I bet they will have a great time. Sure hope they get a good tan.

NANCY GRANT and her family are going to Huntington Lake with the Kullbergs and the Lindersmiths. Sara Kullberg and Sharon Lindersmith are former Wilson students. They are all planning on a wonderful time.

NORMA LOWERY is planning to spend some of her time down at Newport. She is planning on getting a nice dark tan.

JUDY VOGEL moved away from Pasadena Sunday before last. I am sure we will all miss her. She moved to Texas.

LINDA SMALLMAN and her family went to their yacht for a few days. When she comes home Dorinda Brown and she are going to YWCA camp for two weeks. Boy, I bet they will have a blast.

ANDY MANNING is enjoying her summer in her new swimming pool. By the way, I hear it is real great. Get a good tan, Andy.

SHIELA DONNEL just got back from Mission Ranch Camp. She said it was real great. Next she is planning to go to Bal for three weeks. There she will go water skiing and lie on the beach and get a tan, if possible. Sounds like fun.

KITTY HARPER has been busy this summer going to five different camps. They include Senior Work Week, and then on into Oslo, Norway, which turned out to be their favorite place. They took the flying trip from there into the land of the midnight sun, which they opined is a sight worth going out of your way to see.

Ranch Residents
At Balboa Island

Two Valley View families have returned from a holiday at Balboa Island. The Gordon K. Wrights, 1075 Valley View, and their sons, Geoffrey and Robert, spent three weeks at the popular resort and Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Eubanks, 1080 Valley View, and their children, Ellen, Laurie and David, two weeks.

Death Total
In Traffic
Grows in '57

Southland traffic deaths totaled 1,029 in the first half of 1957, with pedestrians accounting for one-fourth of the fatalities, the Automobile Club of Southern California reported today.

The death total in the 13 southern counties was one and one-half per cent higher than the 1,012 victims during the same period last year, and pedestrian fatalities are up 11 per cent, the Club's Public Safety Department noted.

There were 487 fatalities, including 176 pedestrians, in Los Angeles County compared to 440 at the semi-annual mark last year.

Traffic deaths also increased in Kern, San Luis Obispo, Tulare, and Ventura Counties. There were significant decreases in Inyo, Imperial, Orange, San Bernardino and San Diego counties and slight decreases in Mono, Riverside and Santa Barbara counties.

Arthur Fiedler to Conduct
At Pasadena Pops Opening

Arthur Fiedler will be guest conductor for the opening night performance of the "Pasadena Pops Concert" on September 6 at the Santa Anita Turf Club in Arcadia.

Mr. Fiedler, world renowned conductor of the Boston Pops Orchestra, was guest conductor for part of the opening night concert for the first "Pasadena Pops" in 1952, and is again honoring the "Pasadena Pops" on its fifth anniversary this year.

The idea of a Pasadena Pops Orchestra was conceived early in 1942 by three men—David Rose, Robert M. McCurdy, assistant manager of Pasadena, and Larry Kent. However, Uncle Sam claimed the services of both David Rose and Larry Kent, and the project was dropped for the duration.

In 1950 the idea was again brought forth, and meetings were held in Boston with Mr. Fiedler who, as conductor of the famed Boston Pops Orchestra, then in its 65th successful year, was helpful in giving advice and counsel to this project. It was his opinion that the key to the success of the idea was that people could derive great pleasure while listening to music while sitting at tables in a beautiful relaxed atmosphere.

Mr. Fiedler has helped to spread the "Pops" idea with other well known orchestras, including San Francisco, Chicago, New Haven, New York, Philadelphia and our own Hollywood Bowl.

The "Pasadena Pops Concerts" will be held on four successive Friday evenings in September. The dates are Sept. 6, 13, 20 and 27. The concerts will begin at 8:30 p.m. A buffet supper and light beverages will be served before and during all performances at individual tables on the Turf Club terrace.

Tickets are now available by calling the Junior League Cottage at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena on week days from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., SYcamore 6-8850.

Frankie Laine, top entertainer, will headline the 13th Annual Sheriff's Rodeo in Los Angeles Coliseum on Aug. 18. Event assists in raising funds for Sheriff's Relief Assn. and draws huge crowd each year.

J. A. Gittingers
Host Relatives

Ann Lynn and Tom LaGrellius of Seattle arrived last Monday to visit their aunt and uncle, the James A. Gittingers, 1135 Michilinda.

Their parents, the Abbott LaGrelliuses, are attending a conference in San Francisco and will arrive next weekend in the Ranch for a two-week stay.

Trinity Seniors Have Varied Summer Program

Seniors of the Westminster Fellowship of Trinity Presbyterian Church are having a summer they will long remember, combining parties, field trips and thought-provoking discussions.

A beach party is planned Aug. 4, their second of the summer and on Aug. 31 the group has set their annual luau in honor of students returning to college in the fall.

Sunday the young people heard Mrs. Frank Christerson of North Hollywood speak on the dilemmas of modern dating. They also spent two sessions discussing the right and wrong usage of the automobile, with a police officer moderating.

The young people are being guided through their program by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mechler and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frazier.

Members don't have time to tire of a subject or activity because they are so varied. One day they gathered for a work party at the Pasadena headquarters of the American Friends Service Committee to pack used clothing for shipment overseas.

Another day they sang at the Community Presbyterian Church in North Long Beach.

They heard a talk on the factors that make marriages fail. They plan a trip to the Angelus Temple in Los Angeles, a movie titled "How to Be Good—and Mad," and a lecture by the Rev. Russell Prestice of Alhambra First Presbyterian Church on the power of prayer.

The group also plans a "car wash" and an auction to raise money for their activities and benevolences.

Charles Goodrich, a Pasadena student at the Presbyterian theological seminary at San Anselmo, has been meeting with the Seniors this summer and assisting the Mechlers and Fraziers with the program.

Grovnor Square
Hosts Recent Benefit Party

More than 60 guests were in attendance at the combination spaghetti, swimming and dance party held last Saturday night in the C. Keith Barnes home, 1280 Daveric.

The affair was sponsored by Grovnor Square Chapter of Daughters of the British Empire to benefit the Sierra Madre British Home, Inc. Party arrangements were under the direction of Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Jack Ringers and Mrs. James Struthers.

Included in the guest list were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Art Myers and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Rasmussen.

Toastmasters
Entertained
At Barbecue

Twenty-seven members of Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club met in the home of Wendell Booth, 3755 Denair, for a special outdoor barbecue meeting.

Toastmaster Frank Wright—"chef laureate" of the club—skillfully manipulated a battery of five braziers and presented a menu that included fresh garden relishes, frappe, charcoal broiled young caponette, Swedish potato salad and corn on the cob. Meanwhile, back on the diving board, host Wendell Booth served beer on tap.

Speakers of the evening were Richard Friend, Vic Harris, John DuBois, Jack Crehan and Frank Wright.

Mr. Crehan was voted "best speaker" of the evening. He gave his first talk to the club, the "ice breaker" speech, which he presented in a humorous vein.

Max Nauman was the toastmaster. The table topics discussion was conducted by Ken White. During this portion of the program, members speak extemporaneously on subjects selected by topicmaster White.

Evaluation of the program was handled by Edward Mayo. His panel of critics evaluated each speaker's performance.

Two Pressing Problems
Face Pasadena Board

As the Sierra Madre News went to press, Pasadena's neophyte School Board was faced with two pressing items of business, the appointment of a fifth Board member to replace Robert Mardian, resigned, and the selection of a superintendent.

Teachers, many citizens and two members of the old Board cheered the reinstatement of Dr. A. Roland Walker in his position of assistant superintendent for instruction.

He was reprimanded for his alleged participation in the recent election in which three new members of the Board were elected. The retiring Board had reduced him to the status of teacher.

HIS REINSTATEMENT was made over the objection of Edgar Barratt, holdover member of the Board, who led the fight over teacher electioneering, which is still not settled.

Dr. Stuart E. Marsee, assistant superintendent for business, is acting superintendent, temporarily replacing Dr. Stuart McComb, who resigned in the electioneering controversy. There has been talk of reinstating Dr. McComb, but he has said he does not want the job.

Mr. Mardian, an attorney who was appointed to fill a vacancy on the Board about two years ago and was named president by the new Board, resigned because he said the Board was taking too much time from his professional duties.

Steve Salisian, a new member, was elevated to president, from his position as vice president. Mrs. LuVerne LaMotte, another new member, was elected vice president.

SOME 100 names have been mentioned to Board members as possibilities to

The four grants, totaling $54,220, were listed yesterday by the society among new research allocations made this month.

Braves, Beavers Win
Ranch Little League Title

By Charles Ayres

It's all over now in the Hastings Ranch League, with the Braves and Beavers being crowned champions in their respective divisions.

The Beavers copped both halves of their National League competition but things were much rougher in the American.

The Braves and Reds met to play off their early season tie which the Reds won in eight innings on Bill Bousman's single that scored two runs, making the final score 3-1 in favor of the Reds.

A 2-0 LEAD didn't hold up in the playoff game for the Reds and they finally succumbed, 5-2, in an abbreviated 5-inning game.

The playoff game for the crown between the Braves and Yankees Monday night was marred by the absence of the Yankee pitching star, Rick Nagni. Rick was home sick in bed while his teammates struggled under a 9-0 Braves lead. The Yankees weren't dead yet, however, and scored eight runs in the last half of the sixth inning before finally letting the Braves off gasping with a 9-8 edge.

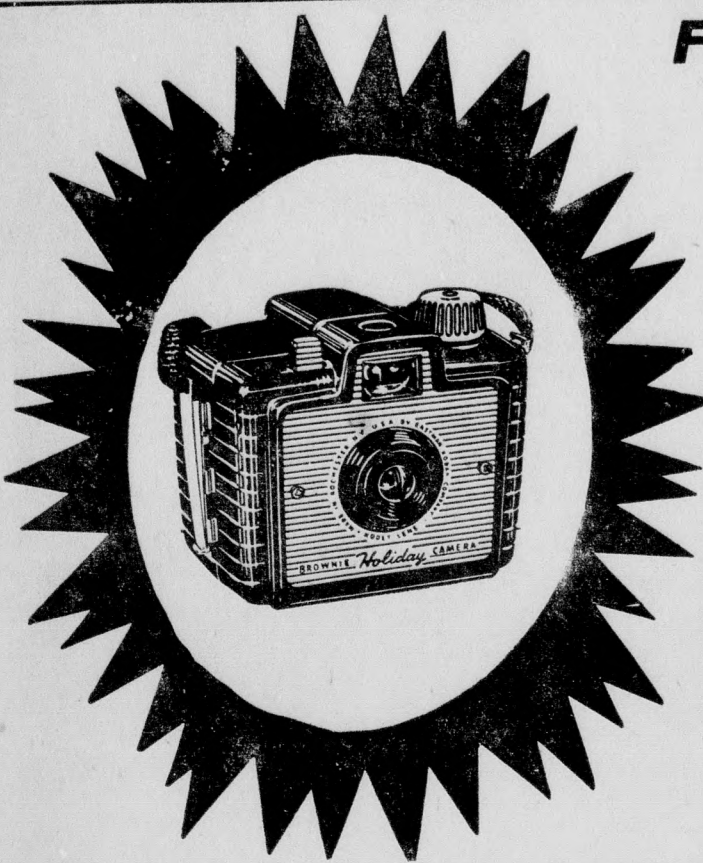

An All-Star team was selected from the National League teams to play the champion Beavers in an exhibition to bring down the curtain on the year's play.

Safety Devices Negated by Power, Speed

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill Branch of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

Driving an automobile in today's traffic is a little like porcupines playing leap frog. Unless done carefully, someone's going to be hurt.

According to the National Safety Council, traffic accidents on the nation's highways this year will kill more than 40,000 persons and injure 1,400,000 more!

Tremendous forces are unleashed when an automobile is brought to a sudden, violent stop, forces that are transmitted to the occupants with lethal effect.

ENGINEERS, scientists and doctors of medicine are constantly seeking ways in which the effect of these deceleration forces can be minimized. Safety belts, padded dashboards and visors, recessed steering wheels, door-locking devices, elimination of protruding knobs and handles have been developed and their efficiency proved.

It is ironic, however, that automobile manufacturers continually tend to negate the benefits of these devices by adding more and more power, mass and speed to the machine itself. Also, a certain apathy has made acceptance of safety devices slow.

Of course, the moment a

the hospital in adequate time.

With the death toll mounting each year, it is no wonder that doctors consider traffic fatalities every bit as much a disease problem as anything caused by infection.

Together with engineers they are conducting continuing research to work out, on a disease basis, the cause of these accidents, their prevention and their minimization in so far as injuries are concerned.

MECHANICAL safety devices are perhaps the more widely publicized developments of these studies, but there are also some physical precautions that should be taken by all who ride in autos.

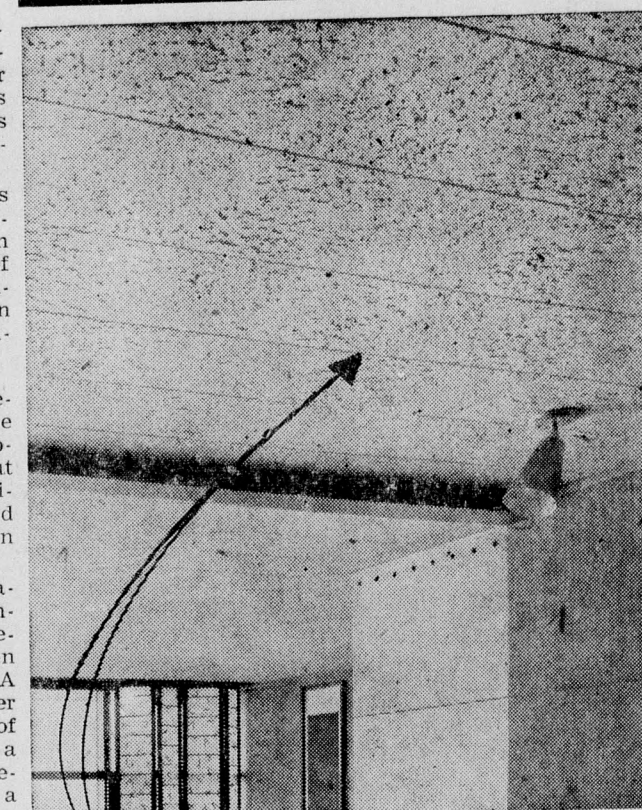

An anti-tetanus inoculation will prevent this potentially fatal infection that results from invasion of open wounds by tetanus bacilli. A "dog tag" or some other means of identification of blood type—preferably a tattoo—will save many precious minutes in providing a blood transfusion.

person becomes an accident victim the immediate concern is not what might have prevented the injuries but what can be done to minimize them.

Never was the adage "splint them where they lie" more true than in the case of automobile accident victims. Good-intentioned but sadly misinformed bystanders who "try to make the victims comfortable" by straightening them out or carrying them off the pavement to softer ground may do more damage than good.

MOST SERIOUS injury, as far as life is concerned, is the result of hemorrhage. When this is noted at the scene of an accident, tourniquets should NOT be used. Rather, pressure, from any sort of bandage, should be applied directly over the bleeding point. This usually will stem the flow so that the patient can be moved to

Dwarf Citrus Unofficial Symbol of California

True dwarf citrus trees are now available which bear superb fruit and foliage, fill the garden with the fragrance of their flowers and which may be raised virtually anywhere with minimum care. The citrus tree stands as the unofficial symbol of California, and visitors "expect" to see an orange or lemon tree in your garden.

Now you may have one, regardless of the size or scope of your garden area, advises the California Association of Nurserymen.

True dwarf citrus were pioneered and developed by Floyd C. Dillon and his son Don Dillon, of Mission San Jose. They now offer 30 true dwarf varieties, ranging from oranges and lemons to tangelos and kumquats, created by grafting choice "mother trees" onto selected dwarfing root stocks. The use of this special root stock is the key factor, and requires painstaking selection for each variety.

THE REMARKABLE dwarfs thus produced possess fruiting and appearance as desirable as the "mother tree" itself, and the "mother trees" were chosen from the most perfect of their strain.

With today's "garden living," trees and shrubs in boxes can become articles of furniture, to be lived with and moved around according to taste. Dwarf citrus trees fit this idea perfectly, as they thrive in containers.

True dwarf citrus trees occupy less than one-fourth the space of orchard trees, but they bear up to 70 percent as much fruit. They may be planted the year around in any sunny, wind-free location. At maturity, in about 15 years, they are some eight feet high and wide. (Standard citrus trees reach about 20 feet in height and width at the same stage.)

You may choose from 30 varieties of oranges, lemons, limes, grapefruit, tangerines, mandarins and kumquats—all available upon inquiry at your nurseryman's. Grown in the can, they have all root intact, and may be readily transplanted. Given light, heat, moisture, drainage and nutrient, they require but minimum care.

THESE REMARKABLE trees are adaptable to varied soils, but those rich in humus are best.

Drainage is important: one way to provide for it is with a raised bed, with the tree entirely above grade. A liberal sized basin is desirable for irrigation around the tree. Happily enough, watering is relatively infrequent. The basic idea is to water thoroughly, letting it soak down deep. Once the tree is established water only when the tree needs it—the leaves will be in a wilting condition. During the dry season established trees need water once every month or six weeks. New insecticides make pest control easy for modern gardeners, and your local nurseryman can aid your selection.

Here are some planting instructions to follow. If you plant in a container, use one half virgin soil, one fourth sand and one fourth peat moss. USE NO MA-NURE. Fertilize only after your dwarf citrus has become established—about six months after planting. Once a month, use a balanced commercial fertilizer containing six percent nitrogen; apply at the time of irrigation one half cup the first year; three fourths cup the second year; one cup the third year; increasing gradually in this proportion as the tree grows.

MULCH with peat moss, leaf mold, manures, shavings, sawdust, etc., to conserve moisture, moderate heat and to retard soil crust-ing and keep down weeds.

Among the most popular varieties of true dwarf citrus are Robertson Navel, Washington Navel and Valencia oranges; Eureka and Meyer Lemons; Marsh Seedless Grapefruit; Kinnow Mandarins; Mexican and Rangpur Limes; and Negami Kumquats.

Enjoy the pleasure of raising choice fruits in your garden now, with true dwarf citrus trees. Look for the graft, which indicates a true dwarf variety that will furnish superb fruit and foliage.

Consolidated Electrodynamics Corp. set an all-time record in earnings, sales and new orders during the first six months of 1957, it was announced yesterday by Philip S. Fogg, board chairman.

Net earnings, after taxes, of $911,235 compared with $568,147 during the same period last year, an increase of 60 per cent. They were equivalent to 88 cents per share on the 1,063,018 shares outstanding on June 30, compared with 60 cents on 946,758 shares a year ago.

Six-month sales of $15,198,161 were up 41 per cent from the $10,806,128 recorded during the same period of 1956, and new orders of $18.7 million represented a 21 per cent gain over the $15.4 million written during the first six months of 1956.

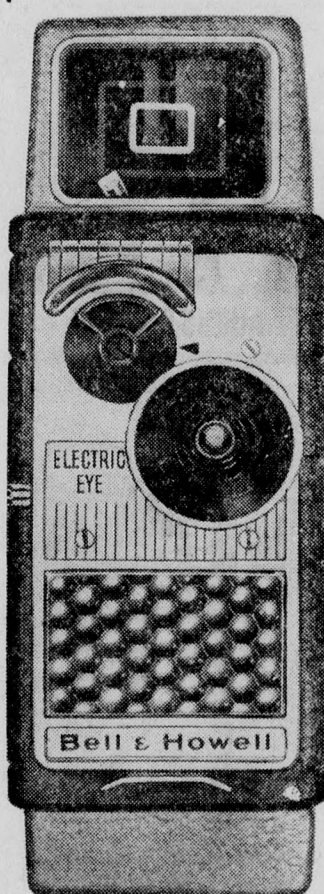

Describing the first six months of this year as "an important period of progress and achievement for Consolidated Electrodynamics," Mr. Fogg noted the following major company accomplishments:

1. Listing of company stock on the New York Stock Exchange.
2. Purchase of the major assets of William Miller Instruments, Inc., of Pasadena, pioneer custom manufacturer of data-processing equipment.
3. Establishment of two new divisions—Spectron, for the design, development and manufacture of high-quality, precision optics for instrumentation; and DataTape, specializing in the engineering, design, and manufacture of standard magnetic recording and reproducing equipment.

4. Start of construction on two new 57,500-square-foot buildings in Monrovia for the Systems and Transducer Divisions.

FORD...just compare 'em

FORD PICKUP—56 CU. FT. CAPACITY
PICKUP "I"—46 CU. FT. CAPACITY
PICKUP "D"—44 CU. FT. CAPACITY
PICKUP "C"—40 CU. FT. CAPACITY

Loadspace figures are for standard
6 1/2- and 7-foot pickup models

No other pickup matches the boldly modern
'57 Ford Styleside for big trip-saving loadspace.
6 1/2-ft. body gives you from 10 to 16 cubic feet
more capacity; in 8- and 9-foot models,
Ford's advantage is even greater!

And no other pickup rides like the '57
Ford. Completely new chassis suspension and Driverized Cab make Ford first choice for pleasure as well as work!
